The screenshot shows a mobile application interface. At the top, there is a blue header bar with a white square icon on the left and a black downward arrow on the right. Below the header is a list of items, each represented by a horizontal bar with a light gray background and a white border. The list is scrollable, as indicated by the vertical scrollbar on the right. At the bottom of the screen, there is a white navigation bar with three icons: a pencil (edit), a padlock (lock), and a list icon (three horizontal lines). The list icon is highlighted with a blue background.

A vertical list of 10 empty, rounded rectangular boxes. The first box has a light blue header and a grey footer, both containing a downward-pointing triangle icon. The remaining 9 boxes are white with a grey footer containing a downward-pointing triangle icon.
